26/06/2023 – A child's security is important

When Karşıyaka Central Primary School, realised that the school needed a security system to protect both the pupils and buildings at the school, they turned to the Anglo Turkish Association of Northern Cyprus (ATA) for help.

Pilli Isfendiyyar, Schools Deputy Headmaster, commented that he'd heard the ATA help local good causes, but never having had any knowledge of them didn't know how true this was. Saying, 'The ATA were so approachable, efficient and quick in not only replying to the schools request for help, but also for the speed in which they provided the school with a security system it can be proud of. A system with multiple cameras that displays multiple images not only on a large display screen but also on my mobile phone, I can now keep an eye on the school even when I'm at home. Thank you, ATA, for providing such a state-of-the-art system'.

ATA committee members Tim Morgan and Levent Özerdağ who co-ordinated the ATA's response to the school's request for help, said 'The ATA is all about helping local good causes, and it is pleased to be able to help Karşıyaka Central Primary School. Once we had received the request for help, within a couple of weeks we had employed a specialist local contractor to install all the necessary high-tech equipment. So not only have the ATA been able to help a local school, it has also provided work for a local Alsancak company, A.Hayatseven Teknoloji Sistemleri'.

Seen here are ATA Chairman, Philip Lloyd (L) and Pilli Isfendiyar (R) handing over completion certificates for the school's new camera security system, whilst looking at multiple images displayed on the systems high-definition screen and inspecting some of the installed cameras.

The security system included the very latest in technology; cameras (16), control box, screen, software, cabling, etc.
